About Shelton State Community College

Shelton State Community College is a two-year public institution of higher education with two campuses located in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, and operating as part of the two-year Alabama Community College System (ACCS). The organization and administration of Shelton State Community College is under the supervision and direction of a Board of Trustees appointed by the Governor of the State of Alabama.

Shelton State Community College was established by resolution of the Alabama State Board of Education on January 1, 1979. That resolution combined two existing institutions: Shelton State Technical College and the Tuscaloosa branch campus of Brewer State Junior College. In 1994, Shelton State Community College consolidated with C.A. Fredd State Technical College, another public two-year college located in Tuscaloosa. The new institution created by the consolidation retained the name of Shelton State Community College. The institution now called Shelton State Community College, C.A. Fredd Campus, was created by the state legislature in 1963 as Tuscaloosa State Trade School. In 1974, the institution became Tuscaloosa State Technical College and was authorized by the ASBE to grant the associate degree. In 1976, the college name was changed to C.A. Fredd State Technical College to honor the first president of the institution. C.A. Fredd State Technical College was recognized as one of the nation's Historically Black Colleges and Universities. The C.A. Fredd Campus maintains that identity and continues the specific HBCU mission of promoting educational access and opportunity for all students in a culturally diverse community.

Shelton State is also designated as the Alabama Junior College of the Fine Arts by the state legislature. The Alabama Stage and Screen Hall of Fame is located there and Theatre Tuscaloosa is based in the Bean Brown Theatre at Shelton.

Shelton State fields five varsity sports teams in the Alabama Community College Conference (ACCC) in Division I of the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA). Two of the sports are women's (softball and basketball), two are men's (baseball and basketball), and one is co-ed (cheerleading). Shelton State's sports teams are called the Buccaneers and their colors are green and blue.

Shelton State Community College serves approximately 7,000 students annually across two campuses. This presidency provides an excellent leadership opportunity for a well-experienced administrator who is committed to successfully preparing students for career paths that meet the area's growing economic and workforce development needs.
